LOWREY HOME THE SCENE

Excellent Program Listened to by Over Two Hundred Fashionable Folks.

The spacious drawing room and lanais of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey were given over last evening to a delightful musicale for the penefit of the Ladies' Society of Central Union Church. A fashionable gathering of over 200 people made it an event in society. Both as a musical and a social affair, it was perhaps one of the most extensive given in this

The interior of the Lowrey home was splendidly lighted, while from trees and bushes on the lawn hung myriads of Chinese lanterns, which lent an Oriental flower to the scene of festivity. Potted plants and huge bouquets of flowers were prettily arranged through the halls and drawing rooms, and were tastefully placed upon the stairways.

Mrs. Lowrey personally received the guests at the door, assisted by a bevy of handsome young ladies. They were Miss M. Widdifield, Miss Charlotte Hall, Miss Paty, Miss Russell, Miss Elsie Waterhouse.

The program was admirably arranged and the selections were carefully chosen, both for adaptability to those taking part and for the delectation of the auditors. The drawing room is peculiarly suited for music and not a note was lost to the hearers. Miss Car-rie Castle, Miss Hyde and Miss Adele Widdifield were instrumental in arranging the numbers, which were as

The opening selection, an aria, was prettily rendered, the voices being admirably blended throughout. The alto parts were particularly pleasing. Prof. Yarndley's violin pleces were short but exceedingly effective, and easily played, Mrs. Yarndley accompanying on the plano. Mr. Chas. Elston was implemented by the temples, but I was little better for anything.

One of the most pleasing efforts of the evening was the 'cello playing of Mr. Harold Mott-Smith. Always a favorite in public, he was applauded until he responded with an encore. The first selection was dreamy, low, melodious and plaintive music. The beautiful tones were exceedingly melodious, and effective portions were brought out well. #### A COACHMAN'S STORY.

"Rheumatism," said a leading physician not long since, "may attack anybody, but is especially the disease or age and poverty. The immediate cause is an irritant poison in the blood, which lent inflammation. This poison is ar-ways associated with impaired disest-ion on the part of the stomach and lever and the amount of it in the system is increased by the inactivity of the excretive organs, particularly the skin, bowels and kidneys.

Assuming the correctness of this view the Ionowing conclusion is creatly ue-ductible from it, namely, that to relieve or cure a case of rheamadism we should seek, first, to prevent the formation of the poison by correcting the impariou digestion, and, second, to stimulate the skin, bowels and kidneys, that they may throw it off, or, in other words, we must try to purity the blood. Ourward applications, although they may, and do, mollity pain at certain inhamed spots, cannot, in the nature of things erauscate the cause of the disease.

Ine following case injustrates the truth of this theory, and should be attentively studied by all who are ainames, practically the same thing.

"bixteen years ago i had an attack of rheumatic gout which affected an my joints, giving me intense pain. My hands, feet and shoulders were puffed up and swollen, and for many weeks i suffered martyrdom. After this I was from time to time subject to rheumatism, which moved about my system, sometimes appearing in one part and then in another. Mr. Parker is a respectable man and worthy of implicit confidence. He is now in the employ of Mr. Whiteley, the famous purveyor of whom he bought Mother Seigel's Syrup in the time of his necessity. Her appearance and exit were applauded, but she did not respond to an encore. The double trio, "Lift Thine Eyes," by Mrs. Howard, Miss Hyde, Miss Castle, Miss Griswold, Mrs. Damon and Mrs. Hoffmann, was very fine. Rubenstein's "The Angel," was delightfully rendered by Miss Peck and Miss Griswold. Mrs. Aatharine McNeill-Hoffmann sang two difficult selections, both of which were well suited to her voice.

Mr. Beardslee, accompanying himself on the guitar, sang two ballads in resonant, tuneful voice, receiving merited applause. Mrs. Mott-Smith and Miss Von Holt played a difficult and charming Hungarian rhapsody piano duet very effectively.

Mr. Paul Isenberg's appearance in the proposition, now admitted by the highest medical authorities, that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, caused, at the root of it, by chronic dyspepsials and indigestion. Mother Selgel's Syrup being the most successful medicine in the world for all allments of the digestion, consequently prevents the digestion, ensequently prevents the digestion, ensequently strated in the world for all allments of the digestion, consequently prevents the digestion, ensequently prevents the figure in the world for all allments of the digestion, consequently prevents the poison, expels it from the places where it has produced inflammation in the body, and hence cures rheumatism. The reader will note that it is now ten ucars since Mr. Parker's recovery, during which period he has had no relance.

William Ester Killed Toyo Jackson.

Imprisonment for Not Loss Than Ten Nor More Than Twenty Years.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

William Ester, charged with the murder of Toyo Jackson, was found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, by a jury at 6 o'clock last evening. He is the negro who killed the local base ball player, on Saturday evening, March 10, last, by stabbing him with a pocket

Words were passed between the two and Jackson struck the negro. The latter went out and later returned with something in his hand. Another fight ensued, in which Ester was pursued from the saloon into the alleyway, where the fatal wound is supposed to have been given, It was a corneidence that in one court becoming lodged in those parts or the room yesterday one colored man receivsystem where the circulation has the ed a jury verdict which made him justly least force, sets up a more or less vio- nappy, for he is entitied as a memori of the Hogan minstrel troupe to re-ceive $1.5 from the Canadian-Austraiian S. it was one of the shortest murder trials in the history of the local courts The actual commencement of the tria was on Tuesday afternoon, quite late, but the examination of witnesses did not take place until yesterday forenoon The evidence was mostly circumstan tial, but of a directness which pointed to the guilt of the defendant in the case. The details of the affair leading up to the tragedy in the street were all depicted with remarkable clearness and frankness by the eight witnesses, whose evidence was not refuted to any degree by the counsel for the defendant A gruesome but silent piece of eviflicted with gout and rheumatism—the dence put in yesterday by the prosecutwo ailments being, under different tion while Dr. Cooper was on the stand was a glass jar containing the hear of Toyo Jackson, showing the knife wound in it which caused the death of the young man. Not that the negro admit-ted to him that he was the one who a... the stabbing, but on account of his peculiar answer in response to a question of the Captain. Both were in the patrol wagon riding from the hospital where Cockett had identified Ester as the assailant, when Parker asked. "Why did you stab Toyo Jackson and Cockett?" Parker stated the defendant made a monosyllable answer of two words only which were "Self Defense." Nothing more was said on the trip to the prison.

Isaac Cockett, the companion of Toyo Jackson, was also upon the stand, and exhibited the scar of the wound which he received when Jackson was killed. He testified he did not know who stabbed him, neither could he swear that Ester stabbed Jackson. He witnessed the quarrel in the saloon, and the events leading up to the run through the alleyway.

Dr. Cooper testified professionally. When asked if the knife which was shown in Court could have been the one which penetrated the heart, he re-plied that it could have been. The wound was made by a blade, and the knife blade exhibited would have fitted into it exactly.

John Dickerson, a hack driver, tes-John Dickerson, a hack driver, testified that Ester came to him a day or two before the murder was committed. And asked for a loan of twenty-five cents, for which he offered security in the shape of a pocket knife. This was returned to Ester on Saturday sometime between 4 and 6 o'clock prior to the tragedy. Ester at that time came to Dickerson and tendered the borrowed twenty-five cents to Dickerson and the state of the control of the tragedy.

Deputy At.orney-General E. P. Dole made an elequent and forcible statement of the evidence against the defendant.

At times Mr. Dole was dramatic in his manner; particularly when he showed the manner in which the negro might have advanced upon Jackson and Cockett in the saloon with an open knife in his hand with the intent to commit murder, as he said. Not a gesture which Toyo Jackson made up to the time of his fall into the street was missed. He simulated every movement and made much of the details which led up to the actual blow. There was little direct evidence which could be procured, but to his mind the last that the running fight occurred to fact that the running fight occurred so quickly in the narrow alleyway, was conclusive evidence to him that knife was already drawn before the negro was gullty of the crime as charged in the indictment, and asked the jury to bring in their verdict accordingly.

Judge Stanley charged the jury very carefully, and spoke for a long time up-on the responsibility which the jurors were to face in rendering a verdict according to the evidence. At twenty minutes after 5 o'clock the jury retired. Twenty minutes later they announced that a verdict had been agreed upon. They filed into the court room and handed the written verdict to the ludge, who after reading it over, read the same to the defendant and to the attorneys. It read: "We and the de-fendant guilty of manslaughter in the first degree." The verdict was unan-imous. Counsel for the defendant noted an appeal, and the jury was dis-
